Need for Feedback

I understand that the practitioner prefers to receive exact feedback on what feels good and what does not. If there is pain or discomfort of any kind you will immediately inform the practitioner of this discomfort or pain.

The practitioner expects you to stop the session immediately if you are uncomfortable. If asked questions and you do not respond, the session will be terminated immediately for your physical and emotional safety.

I understand that this treatment is very gentle but there is always a chance of injury in any type of bodywork. I will give ongoing feedback to protect myself and will not hold the practitioner responsible for any injuries.
